

My life changed forever, because of my injury in a highway collision, at an intersection in the country where a stop sign had been pulled down by vandals.

After being in a coma, I was just glad to be alive and able to return to my job in Calgary. I was not thinking about suing anyone. Months later, as my deficits surfaced and my effectiveness at work came into question, I realized that my brain injury would spell the end of a twenty year career as an area manager in Calgary, present me with huge financial struggles, and permanently change the way I live day to day.

I am grateful to have had Calgary injury lawyers Hanson Associates helping me. Although the defendants disputed everything, Hanson Associates found creative and unexpected paths to compensation for my injury and permanent disability.

I was able to purchase a home in Calgary with some of the settlement money and in turn, move to my dream home on the west coast, where I continue to collect monthly payments from the structured settlement arranged by these Calgary lawyers. The medical assessments they obtained were helpful in qualifying for benefits and as a reference to future medical needs.

Harris Hanson is an injury lawyer who was consistently sensitive and adaptable to the limitations brought on by my injury. This was not an easy case, yet he and his team made it easy on me. Years later, my family joins me in recommending Hanson Associates.
